EMPLOYMENT NOTICE

Compensation:

Queens College of Theology is a low tuition institution, with the average cost of attendance not exceeding $3,000 total over the years of learning. For that reason, Queens College of Theology is only able to offer $25 per student enrolled in your class, per semester, for graduate and post graduate programs.

Since this is an independent contractor position, no additional benefits are being offered.

Compensation is paid at the end of the semester, when grades are finalized.

NOTICE:

This is an independent contractor position, and doesn't require exclusivity. Having said that, Queens College of Theology does require notice of all schools the professor is teaching, or intends to teach at, and for this list to be routinely updated.
